

"Now fishers and unlettered men are sent to preach, that the faith of believers might be thought to lie in the power of God, not in eloquence or in learning. It goes on to say, and immediately they left their nets, and followed Him.

MUSIC

Greetings Church Family!

In light of the many events in our world these past months such as Covid, the outcry for racial justice, the attack on our nation's Capitol and other significant events, I think our church music liturgy should reflect a "peaceful existence." I hope you sing from your heart during communion the great classic hymn "Prayer of St. Francis" as we move about in our daily lives to "To be loved, as to love, with all my soul." The words of St. Francis also remind me of a great Read Aloud book I used for many years as an educator: I Will Make Miracles by Susie Morgenstern: "Next thing I'd do, I'd heal all the sick with vanilla milk shakes creamy and thick. I'd make the world stop fighting! I'd get it down in writing."

Lord, give us all the courage to "make miracles" in these uncertain times. We are grateful for Bridget Caparuccia as she plays the organ today! Michael
